- The system shall allow members to log in and authenticate using their library card number without needing a separate password
- The system shall allow members to search the library catalogue by title, author, or keyword and check the availability of books online
- The system shall display a member's currently checked-out books and due dates on a dashboard without the need to contact the front desk
- The system shall allow members to reserve and hold a book that’s currently checked out
- The system shall automatically send reminders via email/text before the book’s due date
- The system shall provide a small grace period if books are overdue before charging money.